

Gun violence is a terrifying problem in our society. I made this movie to explore the fear and uncertainty that I certainly feel, and I think is felt in the country today.